DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election of claims 1-10 in the reply filed on March 10, 2006 is acknowledged. Because applicant did not distinctly and specifically point out the supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election has been treated as an election without traverse (MPEP § 818.03(a)).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

3. Claims 1-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The instant specification and current claims use the term "delay deformation" throughout. However, a review of the instant specification provides no clear understanding of what the "delay deformation" is, both structurally and conceptually. Specifically, on page 15, line 16+, it is stated that the acoustic data "can provide a new cue referred to as a delay deformation in this invention. The "delay deformation" is further referenced as a "new scale", "a spheroid", "enveloping surface of a plurality of spheroids", "an ellipse" etc. It is unclear from the specification what the delay deformation is.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1 and 6, as best understood, are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the patent to Mattisson ('296).

Per independent claims 1 and 6, Mattisson discloses a proximity detecting system and method that includes a sound reflecting element (13) and a sound source localization part (3). See col. 2, lines 34-43.

The difference between claims 1 and 6 and Mattisson is the claimed "storage part" or step of "storing said collected data ...", respectively.

However, even though Mattisson does not include a specific storage structure, it is obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art that the A/D converter (2) would inherently provide storage for the reflected and direct waves.

Conclusion

6. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
